

BROOKLYN YOUNG FILMMAKERS
MOCK BOOK JACKET – OPEN/CLOSE Film Shoot
Key Prop Created by BYFC Student Solomon Oke

Front of Book

Back Jacket

“MY WISH is to teach my daughters, Sarah Yetunde (3.9 yrs) and Deborah Opeyemi (9 mths), as they grow up, to enjoy film as a means of entertainment, but to also appreciate it as a medium of expression and a world of many jobs.” – Solomon Oke

Solomon Olanrewaju Oke was born in a small hamlet called Ago-Amodu in the rural part of Western Nigeria. He currently works part-time photographing weddings, portraits, and products. In his second job he works as a security supervisor at one of the NYC Welfare Centers. He has been a BYFC student since April 2010. He was BYFC shoot photographer for OPEN/CLOSE (August, 2010) and LITTLE WHITE LIE (February, 2011). He has also worked with the BYFC Director on the artwork for the DVD cover for OPEN/CLOSE. These were Solomon’s first experiences working on designing and laying out the graphics for prop and marketing materials, as well as his first experiences being a film shoot photographer.